OUR STORY

In 2013, Breast Cancer thriver & founder of Boobie Troopers, Mariela Contreras-Piana, was diagnosed with Breast Cancer at the age of 23. When she was diagnosed, she was the youngest patient in her cancer center. She felt out of place at events, support groups, and therapy sessions because everyone around her was significantly older than she was. She then became the one that doctors came to when a “young” patient was diagnosed to use as a resource. The number of patients under 30 years of age started to increase and she knew there was a greater way she could help men and women alike through their diagnosis.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Boobie Troopers accepts care bag supplies or direct money contributions. Visit our website for more information.

ABOUT US

SERVICES

Our main focus is being one of the first contact and support resources that a patient receives. We put together and distributes care bags to patients in Florida hospitals and cancer centers year-round.

CAREBAGS

These bags contain items such as socks, journals, pens, water bottles, head scarves, chapsticks, lotion, and much more. Being newly diagnosed is a scary thing and often times you don't know what you need for treatment or who to talk to. These care bags make the process just a little easier and more comforting.
